The Delegate reminded the Committee that, during the meeting of the Sub-Committee on Export Controls in November 1958 (see Sub-C(59)1) it had been agreed that specimens of the IC's, DV's and TAC's used in the various countries and marked in the usual way should be made available to Member Governments. At the end of January, 1960, the United Kingdom Delegation had provided the Secretariat with a number of sets of the IC's, DV's and TAC's in use in the United Kingdom, endorsed or numbered in accordance with the usual practice. Up to the present time similar sets had been received from Belgium, Canada, France, Germany, Greece, Japan and the Netherlands, but some of the sets supplied did not bear the official seals and imprints to which attention had been directed during the meeting of November 1958. No recent specimens had been made available in the case of Denmark, Turkey, Italy, Portugal, Norway and Luxembourg. The Delegate had been instructed to draw attention to this matter, and undertook to look further into it and to provide the Committee with more detailed information.
